Worth The Effort

Down to the last word spoken at commencement, we laughed, we loved and we learned. Most importantly, we at Juniata grew. The students, who range from the freshman, right out of high scholl, out on his own for the first time - - to the foreign student who has traveled many miles to continue his education, came to grasp a mission. Individually, we pursued our goals and attained our dreams. Collectively, through innovation, aspiration and motivation we placed a college tucked away between the mountains of Western Pennsylvania into the spotlight. The number of students, from near or far, who chose Juniata over a larger college in a larger town serves to show others that we are worth the effort.

Dave's bar, on a Thursday night is a favorite tradition for Juniata students.

Well, isn't this a familiar sight looming over the football field. Of course, Juniata is winning.

What a sight for sore eyes to a student pulling an all nighter.

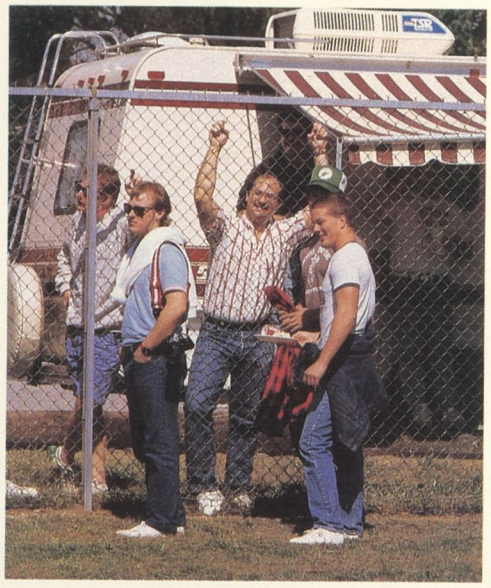
Tradition

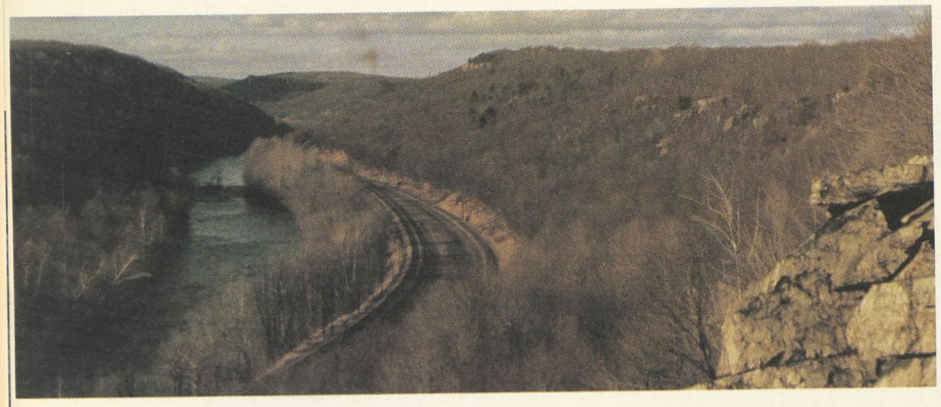
Be it classes, buildings, special events or everyday activities, Juniata is full of tradition — Tradition we love — Madrigal Dinner, Mud Volleyball and tradition we don't love quite as much — writing P.O.E.'s, Baker food. All of these things make Juniata a special place to all that are a part of it.

The football team makes a grand entrance.



Alumni return to the campus in comfort.

The sophomores end their All Class Night skit in a smashing pose.



Excited students anxiously wait for their turn on the Oller Hall stage.

Karen Patrella and Bob Herzog play their parts very well.

Michelle Anderson contributes to the music of half time.

Pride

We are proud of Juniata, for our tradition is not based on magic or on a new frill but on a simple commitment - - a commitment to excellence.

The Color Guard is high stepping for the fans at half time.

Individual Excellence

Juniata strives to develop the entire student body to the point of excellence, with an individual touch. The diversity of our worlds has an impact on our lives. We are taught to handle this diversity. Although Juniata instills the same education, the same principles and the same ideals in each student who passes through it's walls the design is individualistic, the performance is personal and the result is excellence.

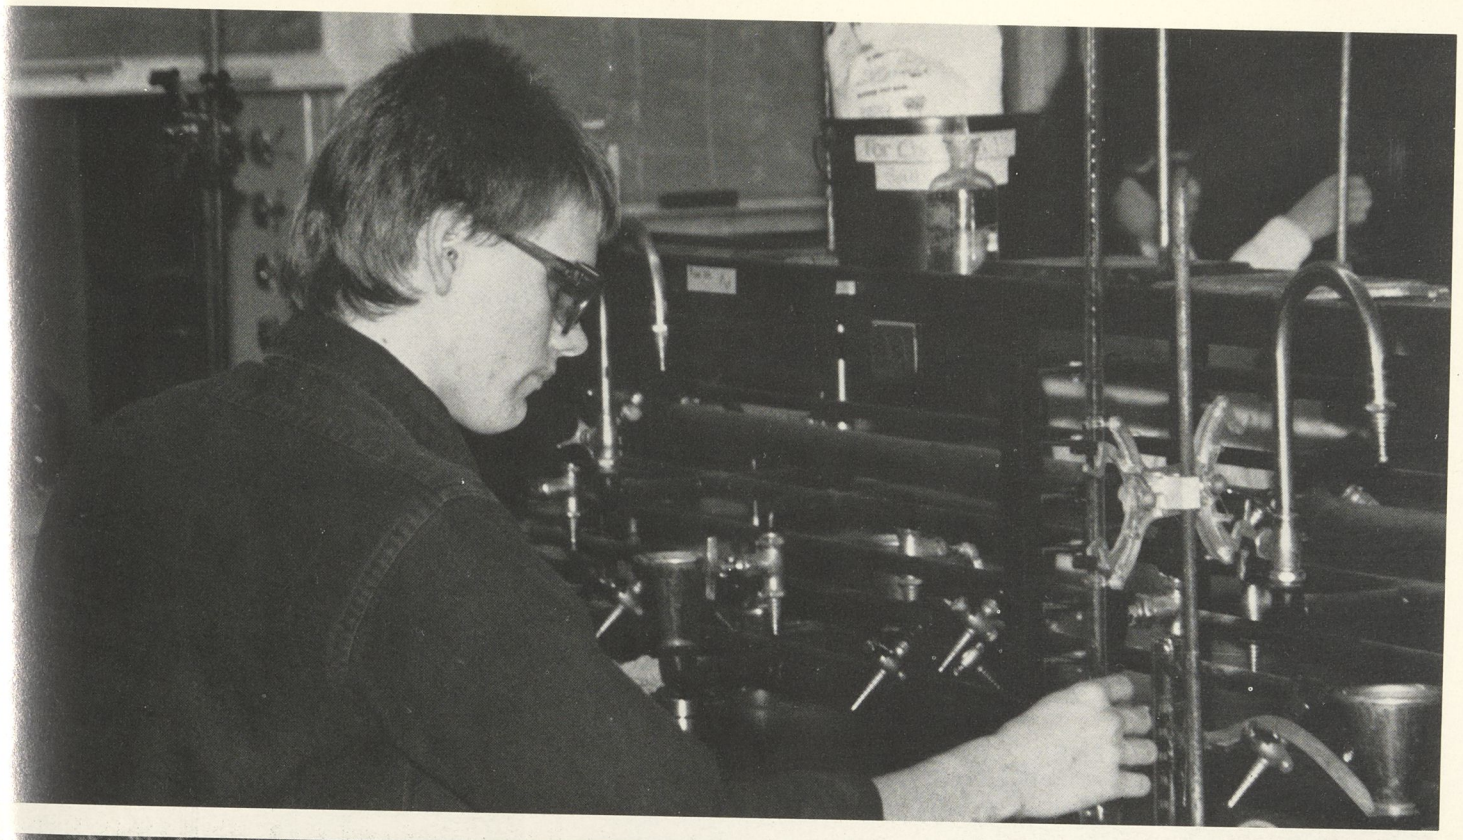
Shh, the mad chemist is at work.

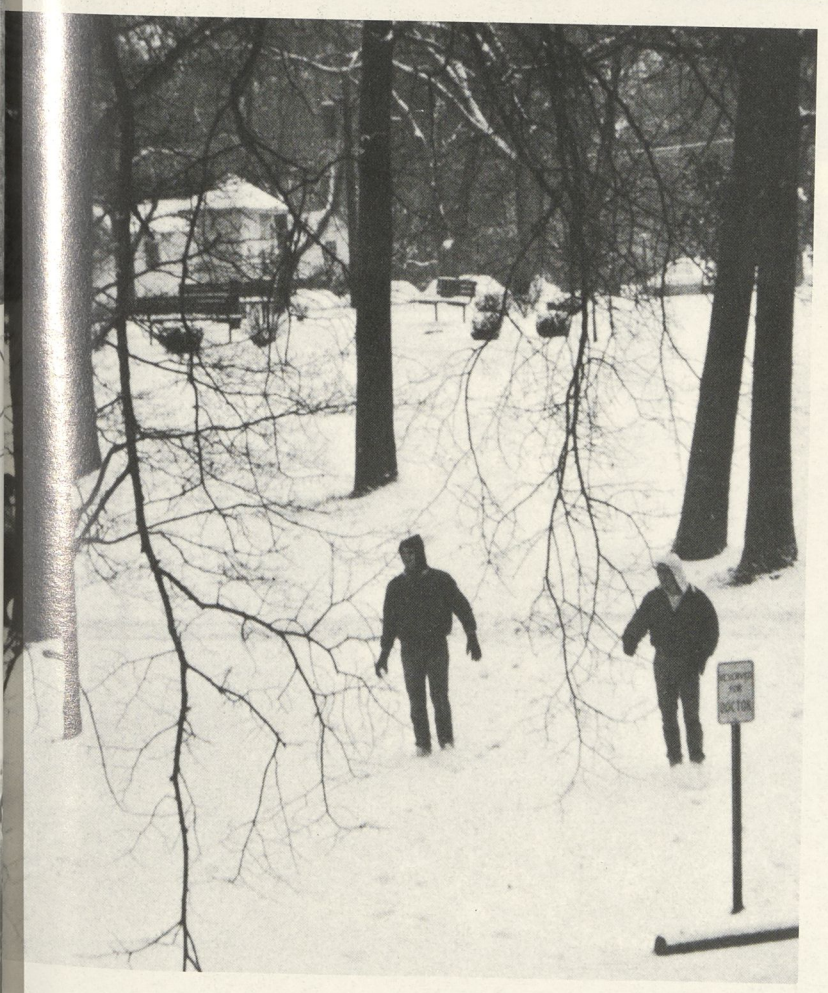
You're not watching the Soaps again, are you?

Is the script that good?

What's so interesting guys?

Just playing football!





How many mad chemists are there at Juniata?

There must be a good reason that these guys are out in that kind of weather, but I can't think of one.

It's not that bad, is it?

Clubs & Organizations

Get Involved, Mak iends

Juniata's Clubs and Organizations are an important part of our commitment to a whole education. There are many different types of activities to become a part of. Some of these involve academic dedication such as The Chemistry Club, Phi-Chi-Theta, and Tri-Beta. Others revolve around athletic skill and interest such as, Lacrosse, Swim Club and Intramurals. Interested in communication, not to worry, there is also something for you at Juniata. The Alfarata, Juniatian and WKVR FM are dedicated to just that. Obviously, no matter what you like to do or would like to try there is a great opportunity to indulge yourself in any of the following activities.

VOLLEYBALL EXPERIENCE AND

The 1987-1988 Juniata Lady Spikers.

Dedication and hard work resulted in a great year for the Juniata Women's Volleyball Team. The Lady Spikers ended the season with a record of 53 — 5 and a fourth place finish in the National Championship. Seniors Beth Hoppel and Cathy Miller earned the first team Russel Athletic All-American honor, while Jackie Rebert, a junior, earned the second team Russel Athletic All-American honor. In addition, Beth and Cathy also received the Ascis Tiger All-American honor. Cathy Miller also earned the GTE Academic All-American honor.

The Lady Spikers won MAC's for the sixth consecutive season. They also wowed the audience with their winning performance in the Eastern Regional Tournament for the third season in a row. Winning at the Eastern Regionals advanced the team to the Final Four. A lot of hard work by the women's volleyball team and great coaching by head coach, Larry Bock and assistant coach, Sue Benusa lead to an outstanding season. Congratulations and thanks for the great entertainment!

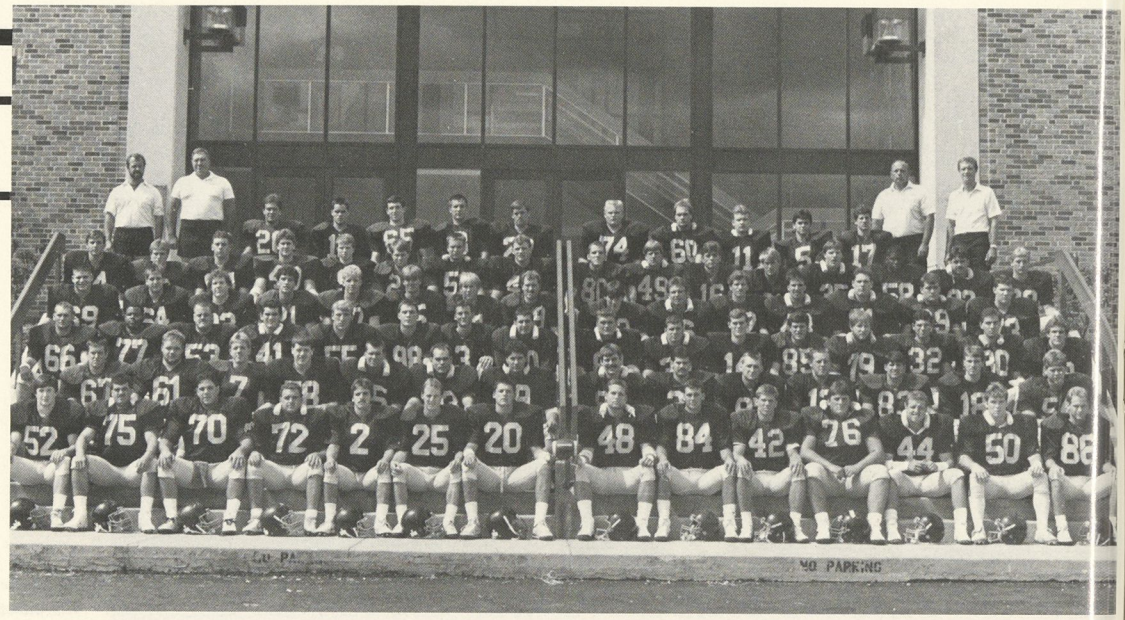
FOOTBALL — EXPERIENCE



The 1987-1988 Juniata Football Team

The 1980's have been filled with success for the Juniata Football Teams. They have had 24 wins in the last three years. The players as well have been very successful with 52 of them receiving honor as All-Conference performers. This year was no different as the Juniata Indians, led by head coach, Rob Ash, finished a very successful season with a record of 7-3.

Many honors were received by the Indian players. Mark Dorner had an outstanding season and received the Middle Atlantic Conference MVP, the honor of Kodak All-American and the Associated Press Little All-American.

Named to the All-Middle Atlantic Conference from the Juniata offense was guard, Mike Martin, tight end, Jim Metz, wide receiver, Mike Cottle, punter Dennis DeRunzo and kicker, Keith Watson. For the Juniata defense it was tackle, Tom Yeager, End, Chuck Rihn and defensive back, Mark Dorner.

Receiving honorable mention for the All-Middle Atlantic Conference was tackle, Todd Ferrara, linebacker, Frank Gay and defensive back, Bob Herzog. The Juniata Indians are known for their determination and hard work and this year they once again proved themselves.

FIELD HOCKEY —

The 1987-1988 Juniata Field Hockey Team

This year the Women's Field Hockey Team, coached by Kathi Quinn, finished the season with a record of 3-7-3. The team was quite new this year, with only five returning players. This, however, did not hinder the team who, obviously improved since last season and who were very enthusiastic.

Three of the team's players — junior, Joanne Thomas, sophomore, Kathleen McGowen, and freshman, Amy Blough represented Juniata on the Mid-East Team Two. This team travelled to Newport Beach, California for an exciting week of field hockey and friendship.

Jill Schadler, a freshman on the women's field hockey team was chosen as MVP.

The men's team finished this year's season with a record of . This year's team was a very young team and consequently it was a developing season for them. Next year should prove to be a more successful season for the Juniata runners. All but two of these very talented athletes will be returning to take the high road to success.

SOCCER — Fighting True 'Til The End

Varsity Soccer at Juniata College is a relatively new sport. During the first few seasons, the team went without a single victory. Last year, however, year the guys finished with a record of 4-9-2. This is proof of the hard work and improving skill of the more recent teams.

The men's soccer team, under the excellent coaching of Klaus Jaeger, finished the season with a record of 3-10-3. Junior, Steve Grater, received the McDonald's Player of the Month in October of this year. This team intends to keep on working hard and continually improve their performance. Good job guys!

Hard Work Pays Off

The 1987 — 88 Juniata Men's Basketball Team finished the season with a record of 17 — 8. This is the most wins the men's team has had since 1953 — 54 when the dribblers finished the season with a 15 — 6 record. Under the direction of head coach Dan Helm the 1987 — 88 team went on to win the Middle Atlantic Conference Northwest Section title. This team travelled to Europe over the Christmas holiday. Here they learned some new skills that they used to finish out the season.

Senior Wayne Paul had a great season. He moved into the fourth spot on the Juniata scoring chart with 1,390 career points and was selected to the Middle Atlantic Conference Northern Division All — Star First Team. Wayne was also chosen as team MVP and McDonald Player of the Month. All in all the team finished with a season to be proud of.

HOMECOMING

Let Freedom Ring — Homecoming Weekend . . .

An opportunity to return to campus and rekindle the spirit! Alumni were invited back to campus for a weekend of fun, football, and friends. Homecoming '87 was a smashing success.

The Homecoming festivities included a special reception for the class of '87, important athletic events, a Friday night pep rally, and a Saturday noon barbeque on the lawn. Our own D. Bruce Davis '65, former professor, now executive administrator at the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, was on campus to speak Saturday morning and greet you at the reception following the football game.

Saturday morning kicked off with the Town Run and the anxiously awaited Homecoming Parade. Indians, many of whom were exhausted from marathon float building sessions, marched through the streets proudly showing off their efforts. Everyone enjoyed the music, floats, and Queen's court which helped make the '87 parade a big hit.The days events continued with the football game in which the Juniata Indians defeated the Lebanon Valley Flying Dutchmen.The highlight of the afternoon was the crowning of the 1987 Homecoming queen — Mary Lou Miller. Saturday's activities concluded with the Homecoming Dance. Both students and alums enjoyed the chance it gave them to renew old friendships and to reflect on the good 'ole days.

PARENTS' WEEKEND

FRIENDS AND FAMILIES IN OUR FUTURE Choosing a college was rather tough
But so was packing the car full of stuff
Getting a roommate, and residence hall life
Were just the beginnings of the college strife!
This college experience could really be traumatic
For all of us: intellectual, artistic, athletic, dramatic.
But college is bearable, believe it or not,
Thanks to the special people who support us a lot.
These people are all very well known,
They're our cheering section from way back home,
Parents, brothers, sisters, cherished friends —
They support us through life's straightways and bends.
Having them to listen, making our burdens lighter
Phychologically makes the future look brighter!

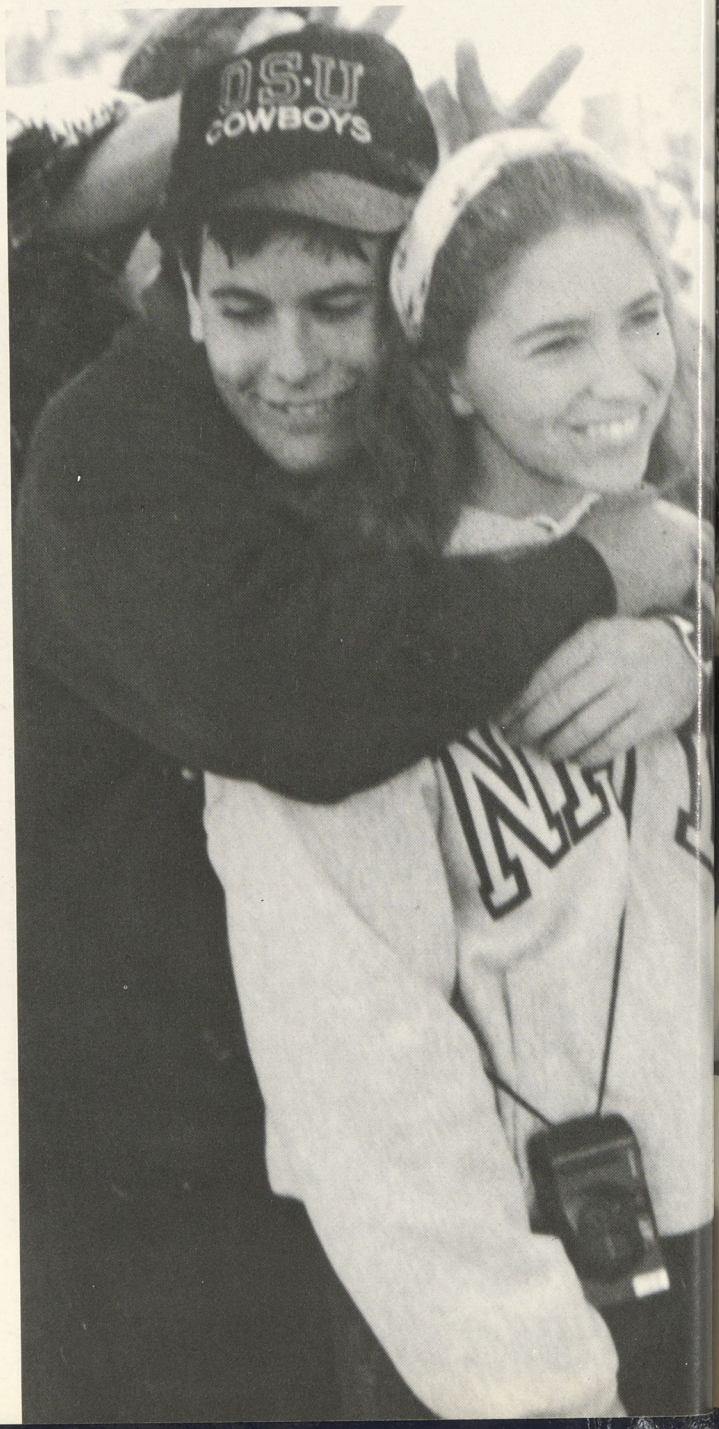
"No Classes Today, Today Really Is Mountain Day!"

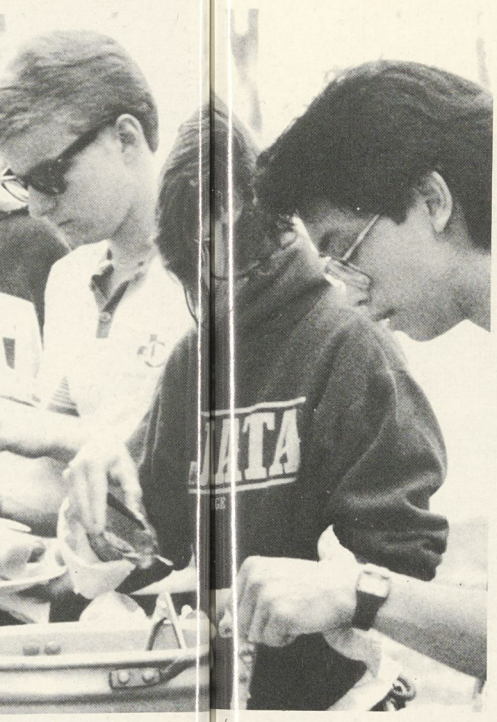
You may ask, What is Mountain Day?, well . . . Mountain Day is a tradition which has been observed here for almost 75 years. It is a day which everyone looks forward to, not just bwecause classes are cancelled but because it is a day of fun and activity. Football between the different residence halls, tug-of-war between the four classes and events between the professors and students are just a few of the activities available. It is a day to enjoy the activities or just to enjoy the outdoors. It is a time time to be with friends or a time to be alone. Mountain Day is a day that everyone enjoys — relaxing, thinking and playing games. This day is a needed break from the classroom and the campus.

An old fashioned cook out with friends and food to satisfy everyone's hunger.



Dana Worthington and Dave Reed enjoy the day in the moutains.

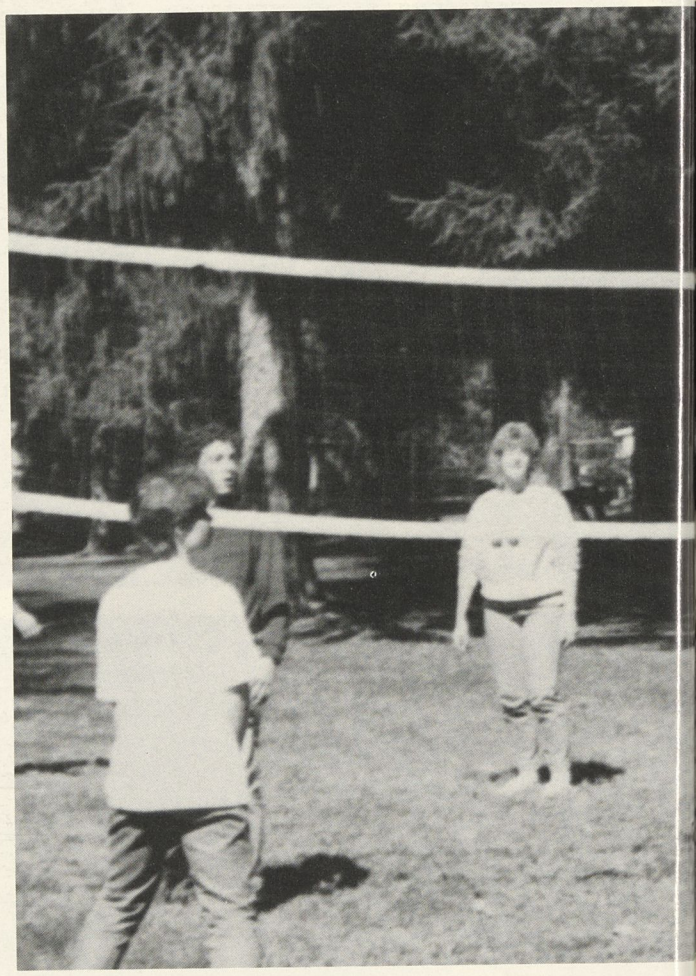
Ahh, this is the life!



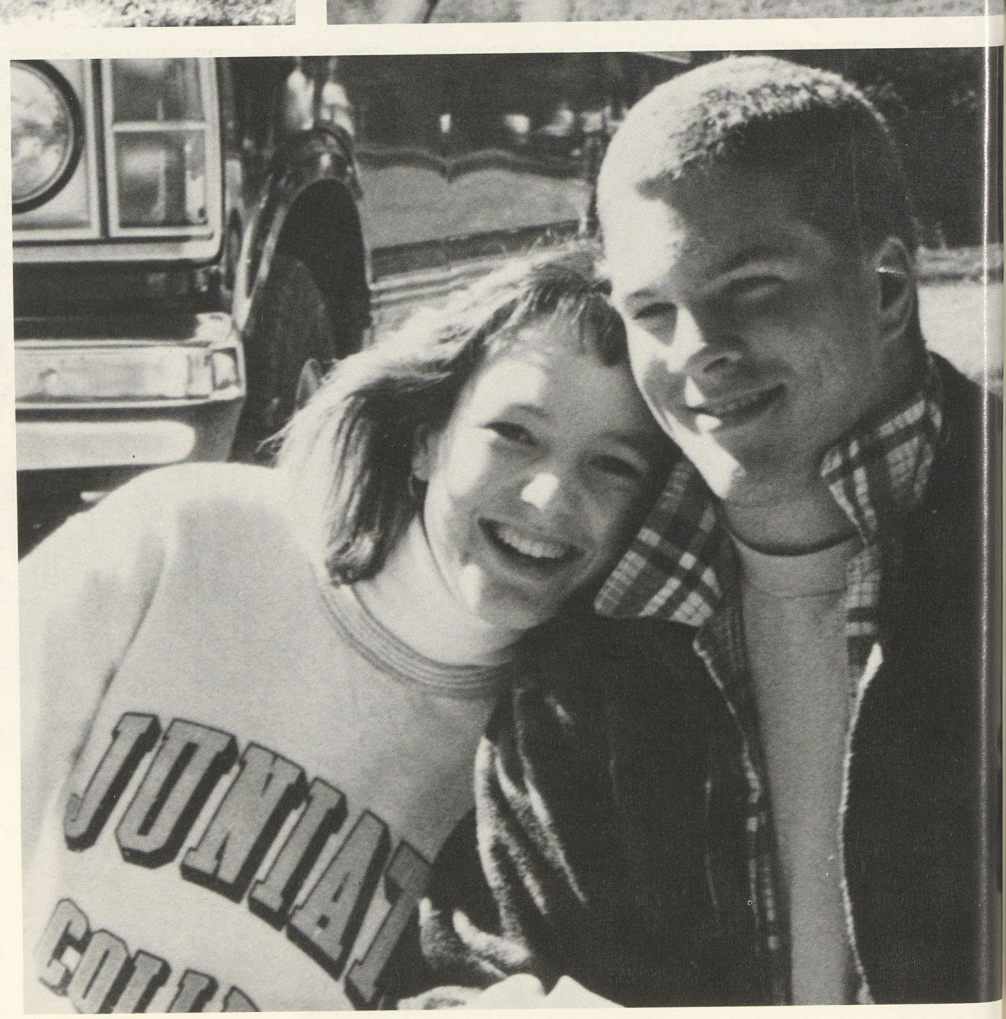
Jeanie Geiger and Bill Hesketh watch the senior-faculty football game.

Lesher vs. South Powder Puff Football turned slightly more physical this year.

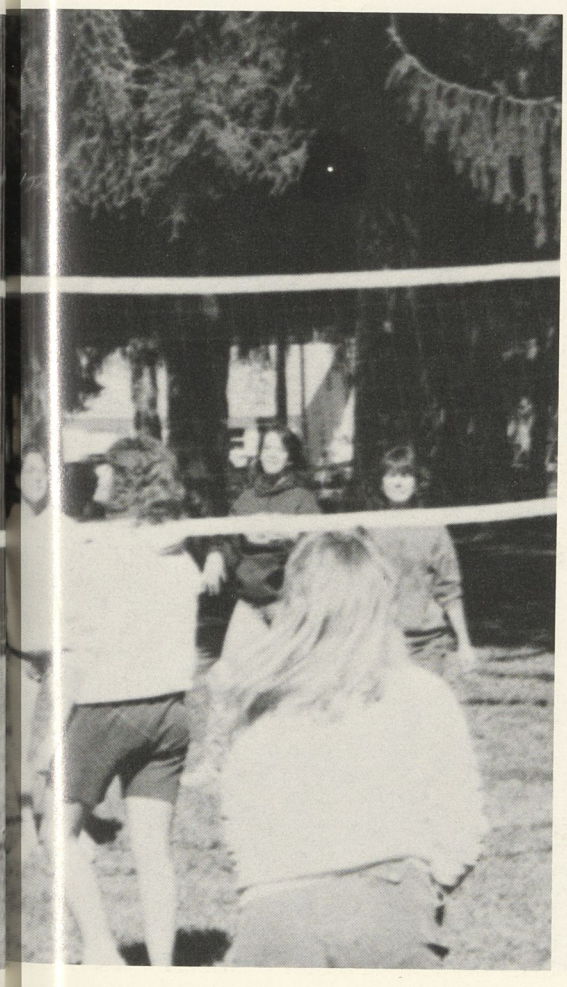
President Neff takes time away from his busy schedule to enjoy the day.



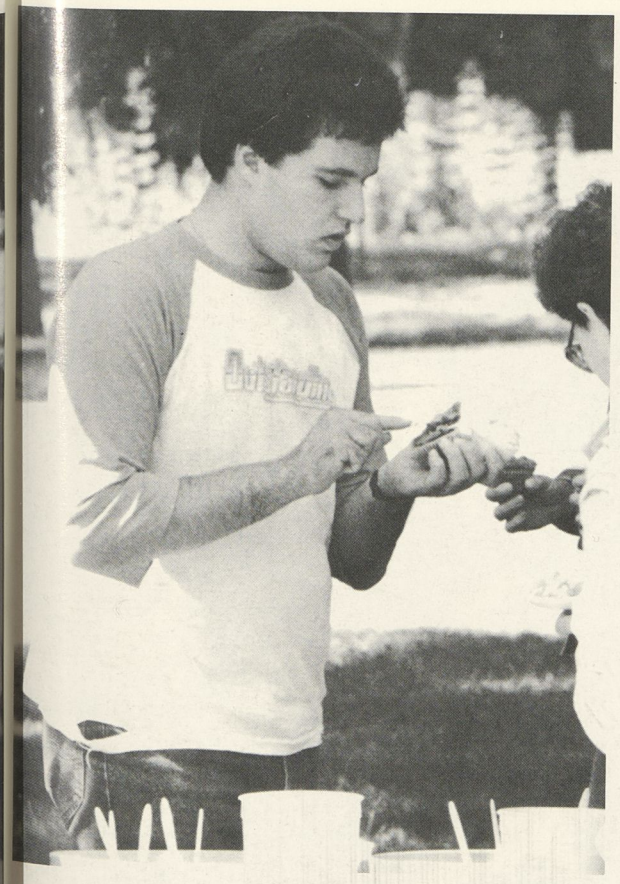
Volleyball is just one game to keep everyone busy.



Tim Crowley and Carolyn Kawecki just enjoy spending the day together.



Pam Lau takes the ball around the outside in the Powder Puff game.

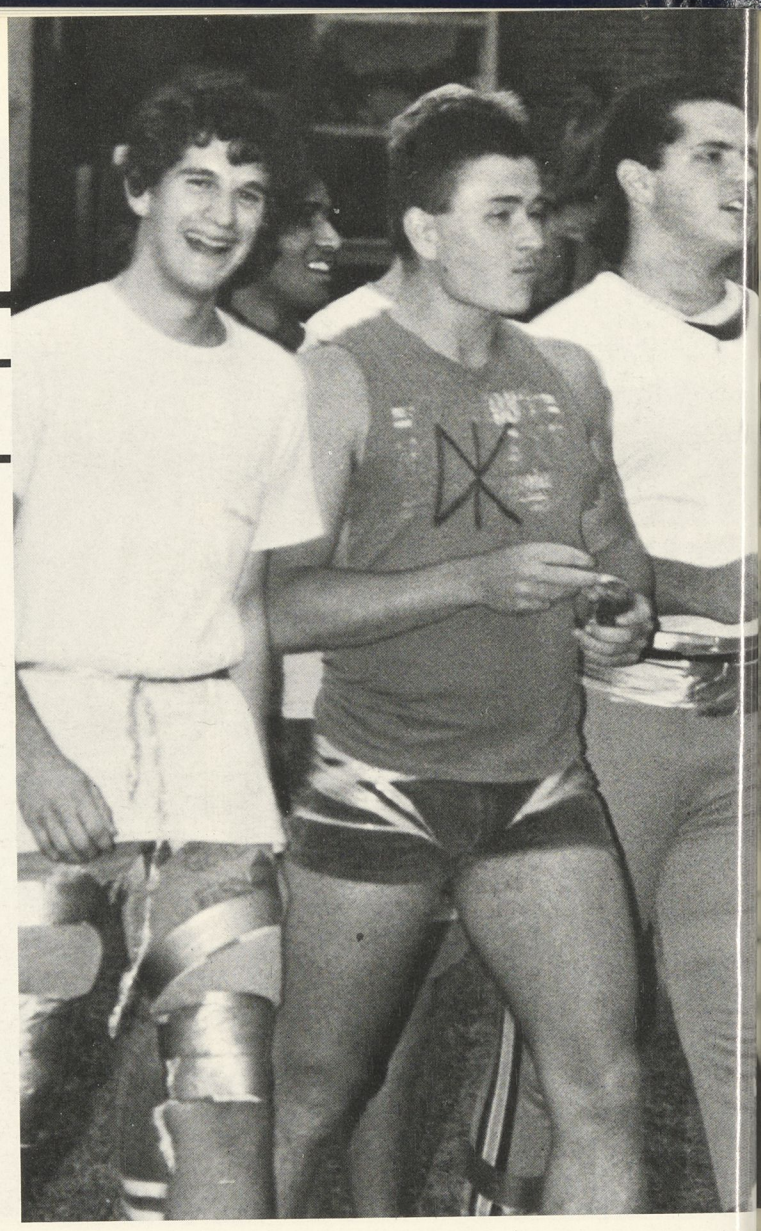


Tag football becomes the biggest crowd pleaser.

John Foradora prepares to enjoy the picnic feast.

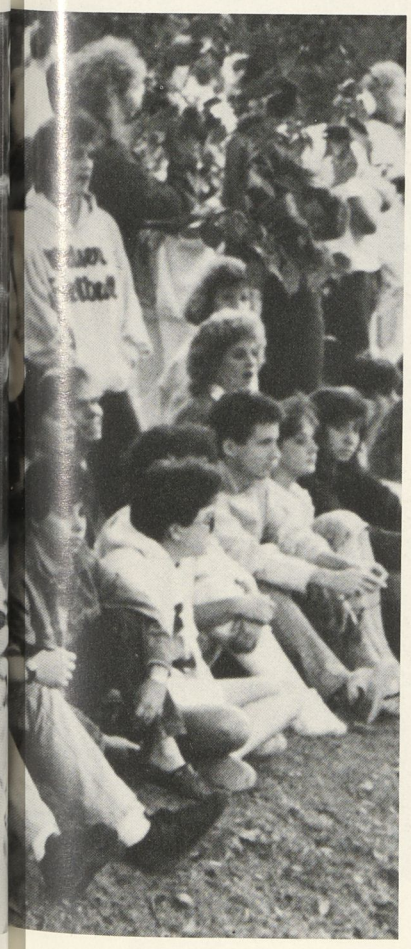
STORMING OF THE ARCH

Freshman Suck . . . Freshman Suck . . . the chant that brings people running from everywhere to witness the "Storming of the Arch". The freshman guys prepare to meet and challenge the upperclassmen in an attempt to pass through the Cloister Arch. The chant grows and becomes louder as the crows also grows. Both students and professors come to see the Storming, which is a form of welcoming the freshman to the campus. This has been an annual event here at Juniata for many years, and in the years to come the chant will continue to be heard on the campus.



The Freshman guys prepare to meet the challenge.

The crowd rapidly gathers to prepare to watch the freshman — upperclassmen battle.



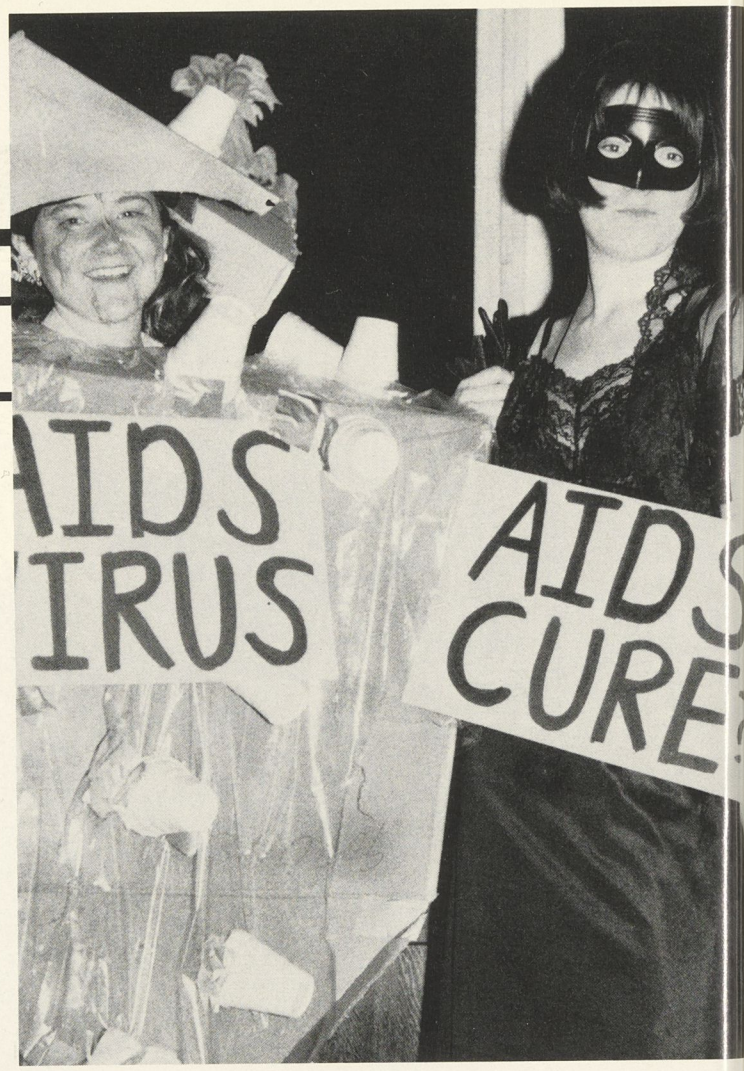
The Freshman charge on, in an attempt to pass through the Arch.

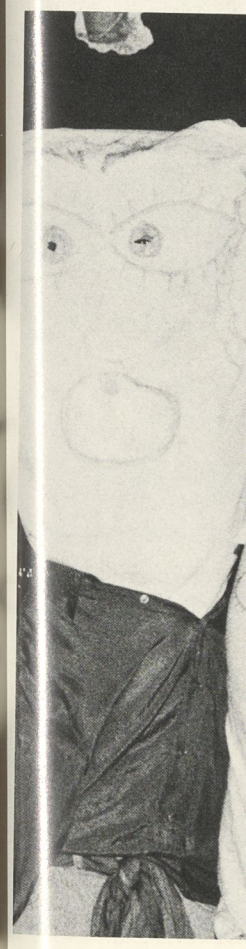
The attempt falls short of the goal.

Halloween

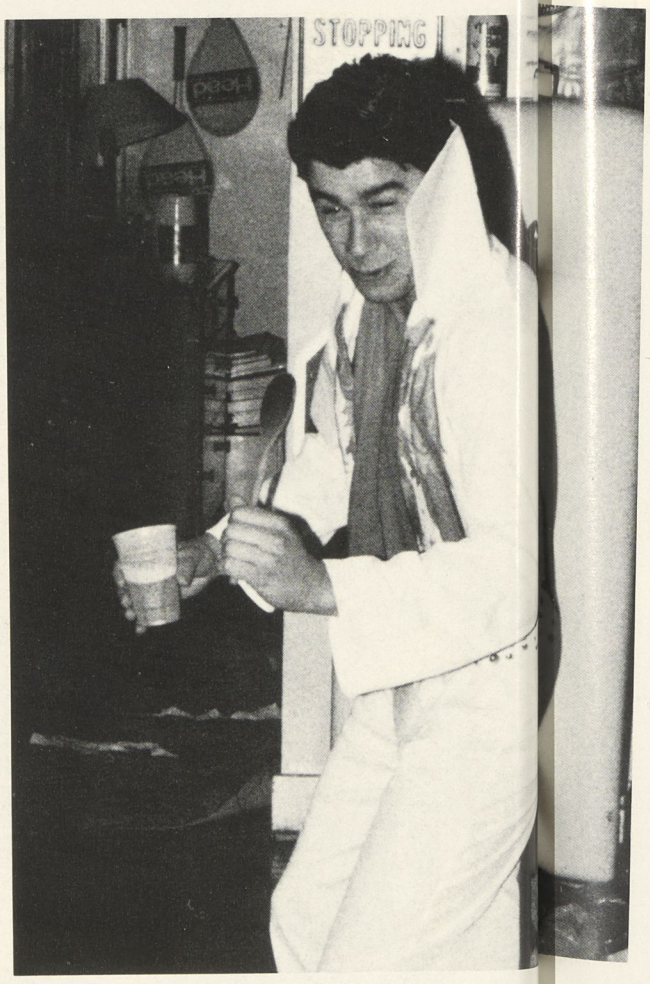
You would think by now we would have grown out of it, but dressing up for Halloween is just as much the thing to do in college as it was throughout childhood. Some of the "tricks" or "treats" might have changed since then, but the spirit is still the same.

It seems that everyone takes the time to think of extravagant costumes. Creativity really abounds; mixed in amongst the usual withches and goblins. this year we found the "AIDS Virus" and "The Cure", The Pillow People, and Alice's Tea Party. It was all fantasy, but isn't that what it's all about? Halloween is that one day a year when we can all put reality aside and be as crazy as we want!



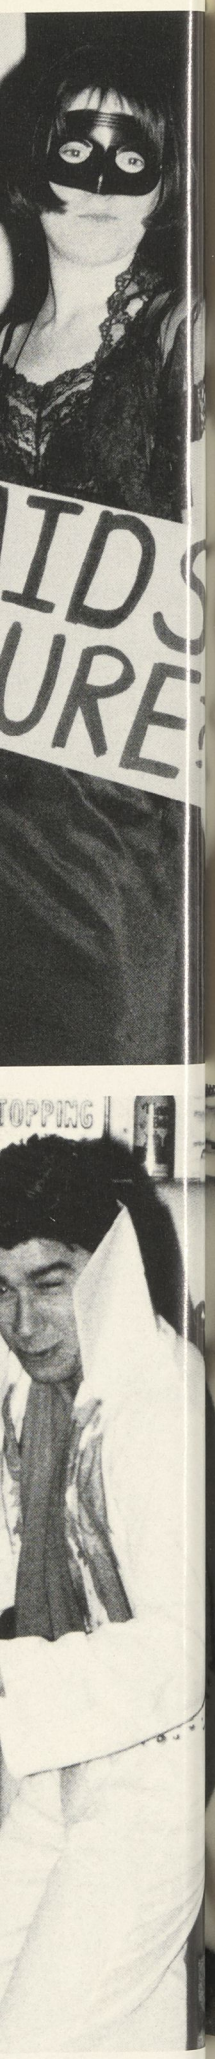


You girls are really tea bags?



I'd stay far away from these two if I were you.

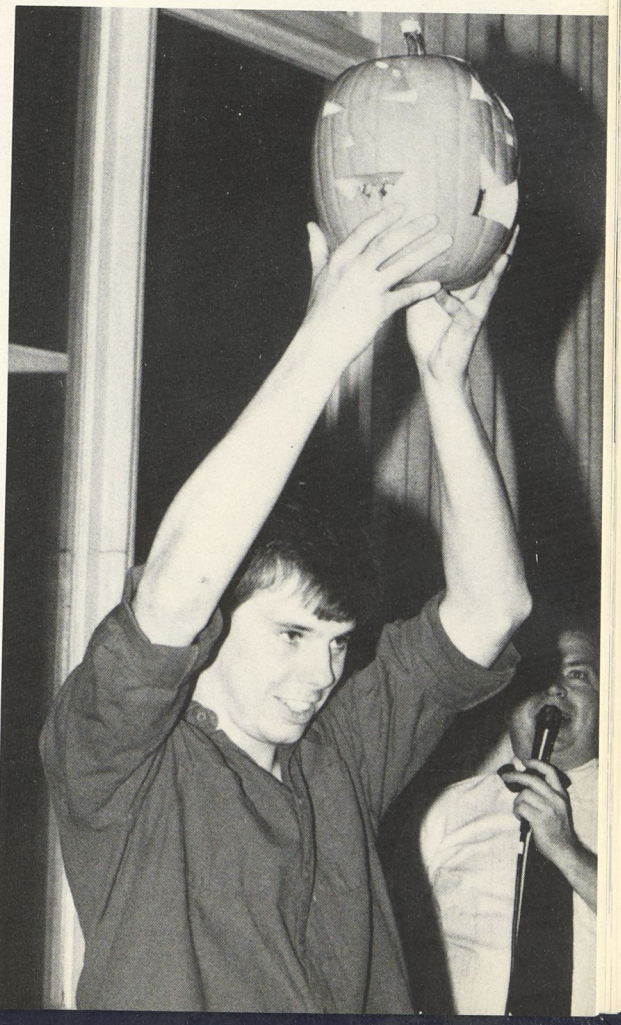
Elvis, is that you?



Funny, my pillows don't look like this.

These mummies look unravelled.

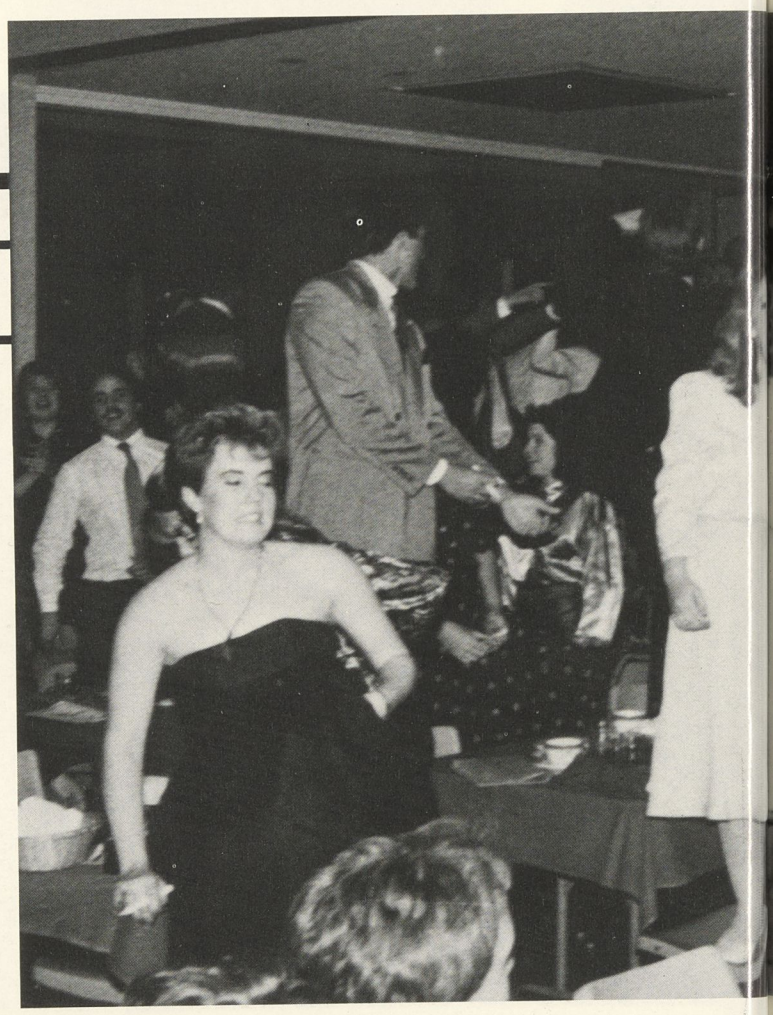
The winning pumpkin in the pumpkin carving contest at Halloween dinner.

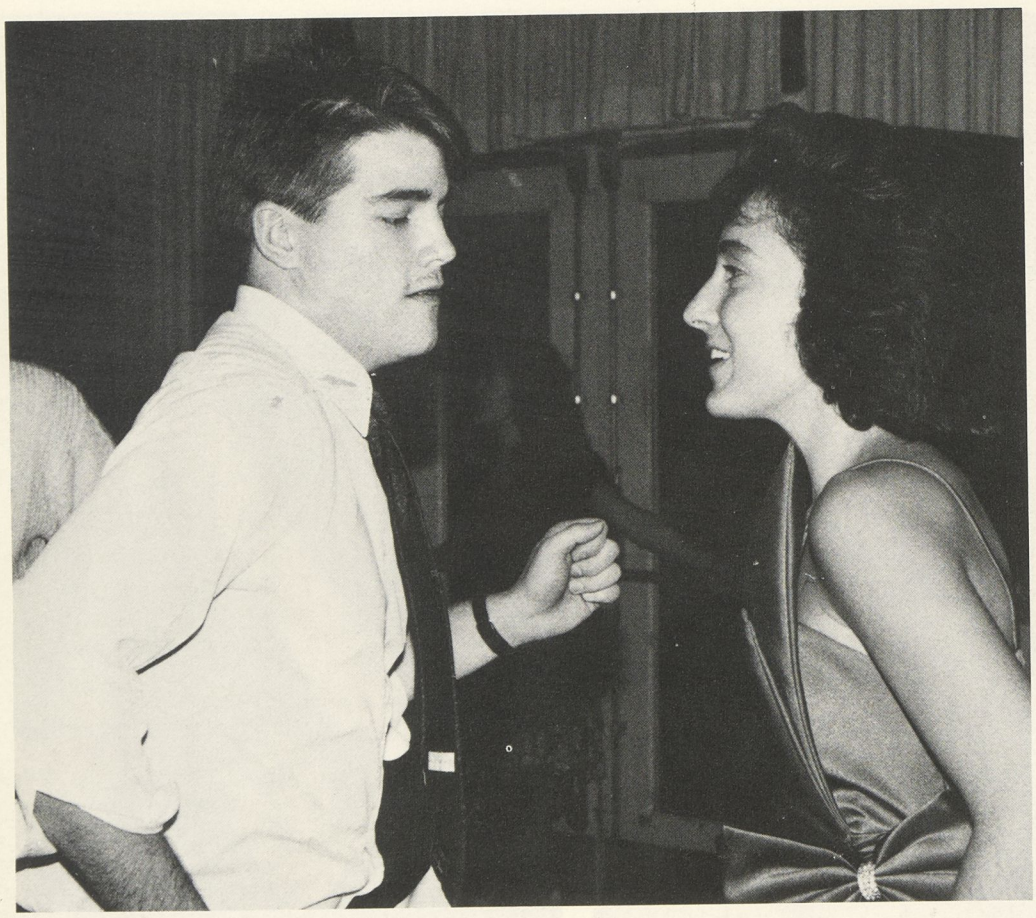


Christmas Wonderland

Madrigal Dinner has become one of Juniata's finest traditions. Each year the time that the table line begins is a bit earlier in the morning, but the wait is worth it in the end. Seeing everyone dressed in their best with a dash of Christmas cheer showered over all makes the evening special. This year's entertainment provided new dimension but the dinner concluded with the all time favorite, "The Twelve Days of Christmas", more competitive than ever. By the end of the song, the words had been altered and the "golden rings" were standing on their chairs. After dinner the dances and parties kept the Christmas spirit high!

Another tradition is the annual South Semi-Formal, which is another evening spent in Christmas Wonderland. The dancing and partying kept everyone in the Christmas mood for quite a while.





Everyone is getting ready for their part in the "Twelve Days of Christmas"

Dancing is the thing to do at South's Semi Formal.

Mandy Wilderman and Douglas Lawson, like ;many others think this is a time for friendship.

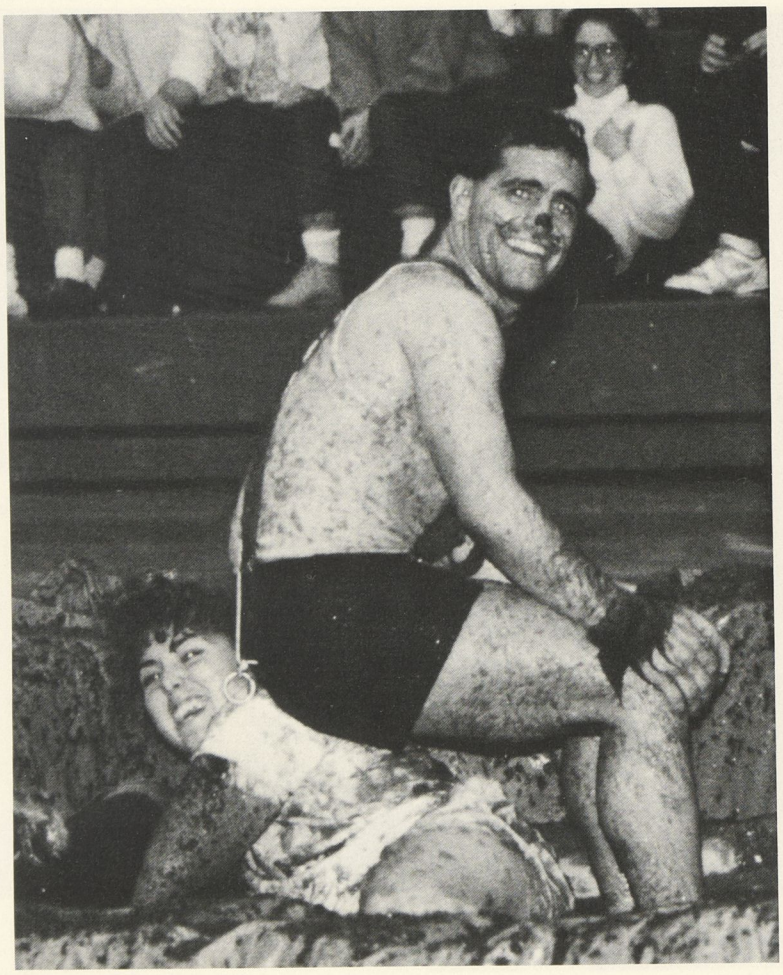
Sue London and Larry Hillman look like they're having fun.

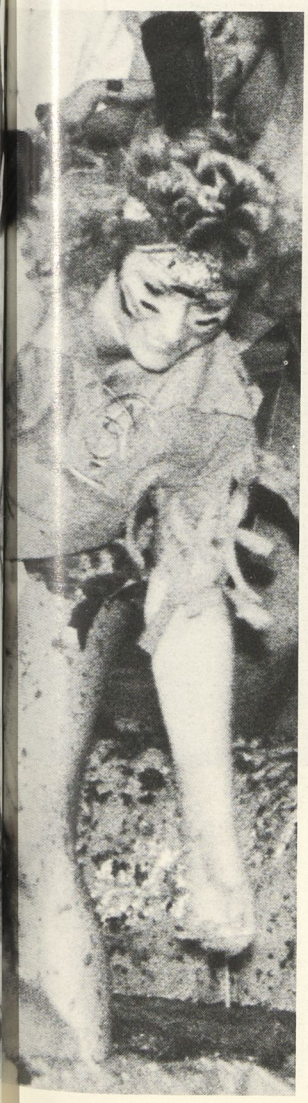
Jello Wrestling

What does Juniata College students, thousands of gallons of jello, and The United Way have in common? They all had something to do with this years Jello Wrestling Contest. The list of contestants had a lot of newcomers that participated in the art of Jello Wrestling. They included: Jaba and Rhondo ws. a Half Ton of Wonen, Cowboy vs. The Indians, Policeman Joe vs. The Criminals, to mention only a few. The evening was filled with a lot of laughter and cheers, however, there was one complaint. This came from the wrestlers, "It was extremely cold". In the end, everyone who was involved and watched had a great time and a nice contribution was made to The United Way.



Look out Rhondo, here come the women!

Teddy Ruxpin, is that very nice?



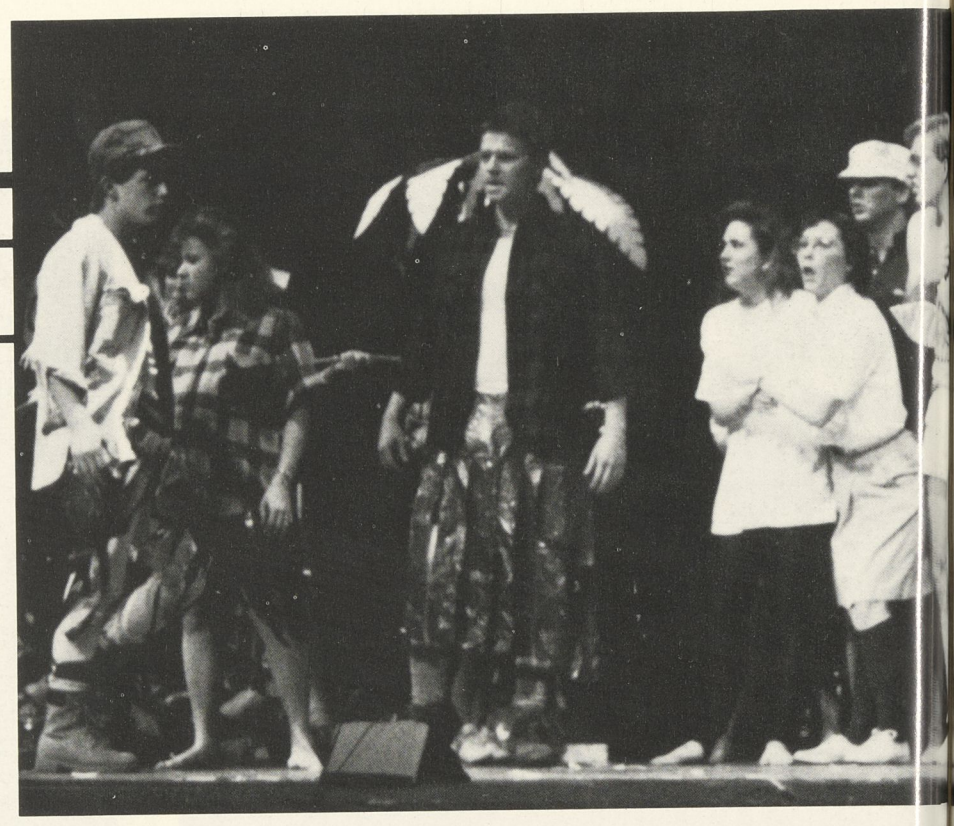
Policeman Joe is taking a beating from these criminals.

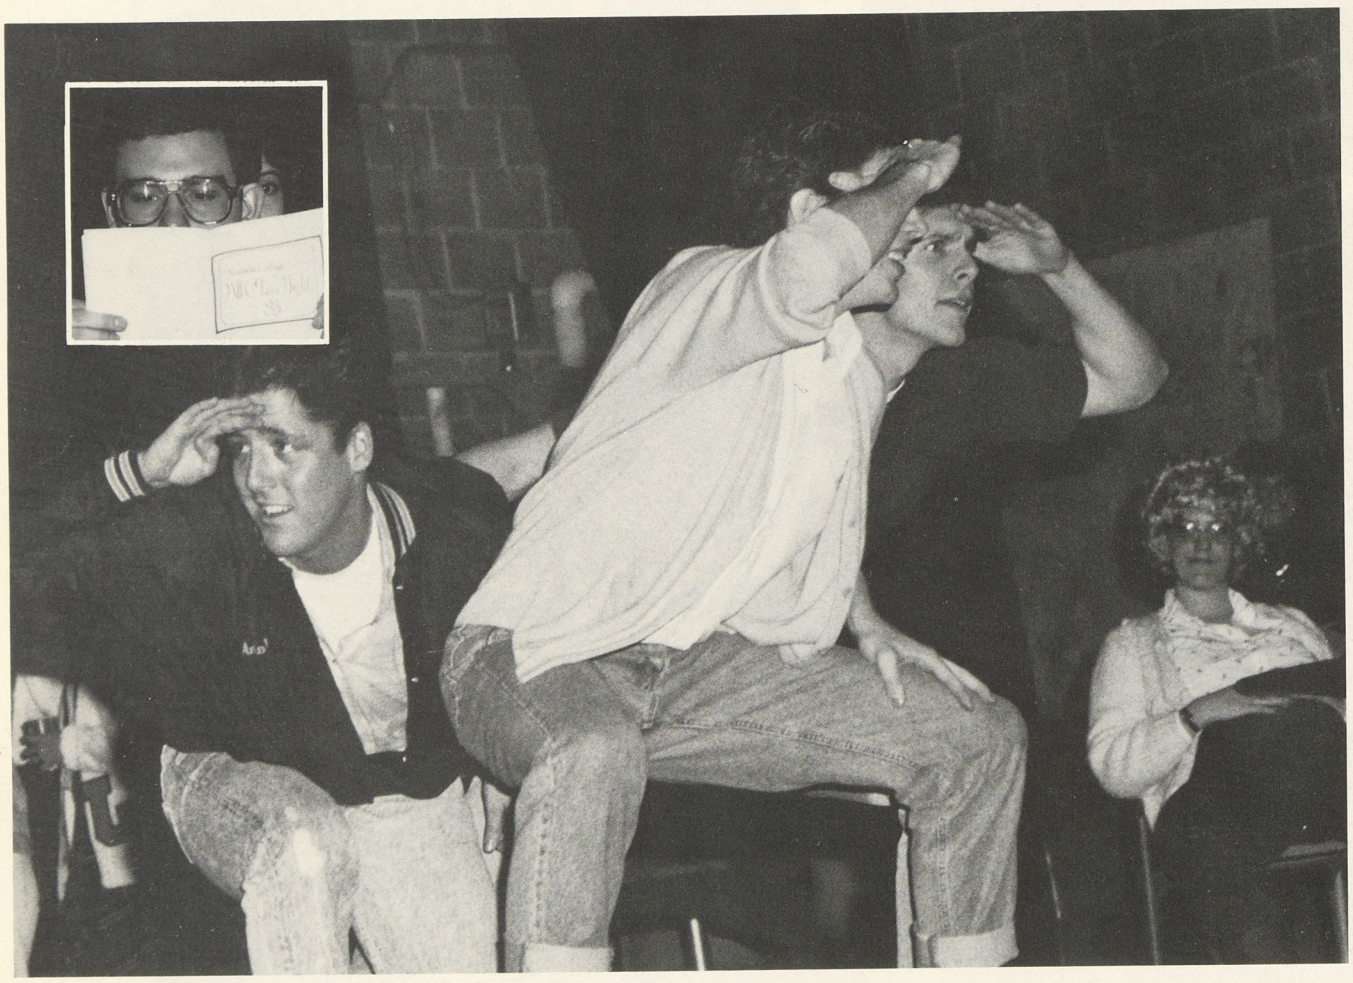
The crowd really is excited!

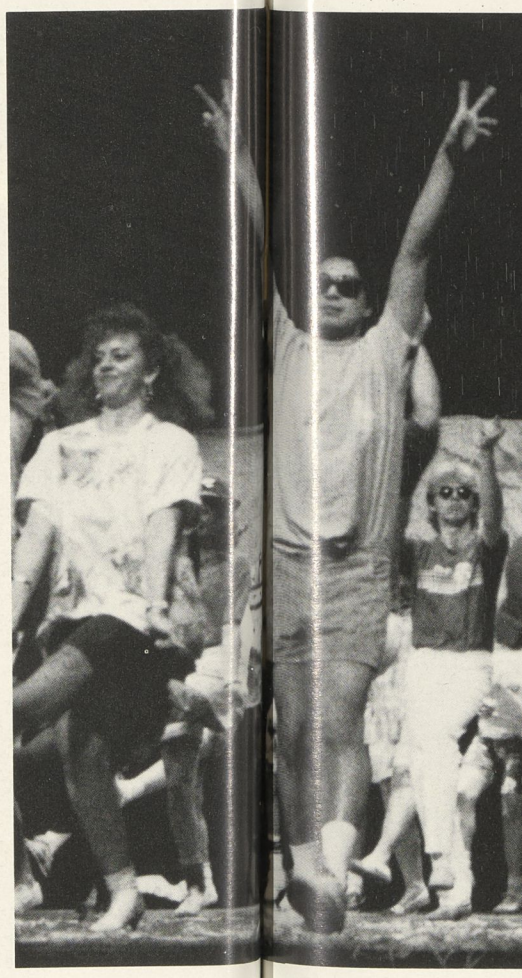
I think the Indians are winning this war.

All Class Night

This year's "All Class Night" was a trip back in time to the time of great comedies like Gilligan's Island, Beverly Hillbillies, Love Boat, and Happy Days. The competition was extremely tough and the judges had to make the final decision. In the end the placement went: fourth — Freshman, who had the best freshman showing in the past four years; third — Juniors, who returned to the fifties, the time of Happy Days; second — Seniors, who took a cruise on the River Queen; and first — Sophomores, who saved the faculty on Gilligan's Island. All Class Night is always a lot of fun for those who participate and those who are spectators. This year was no different.



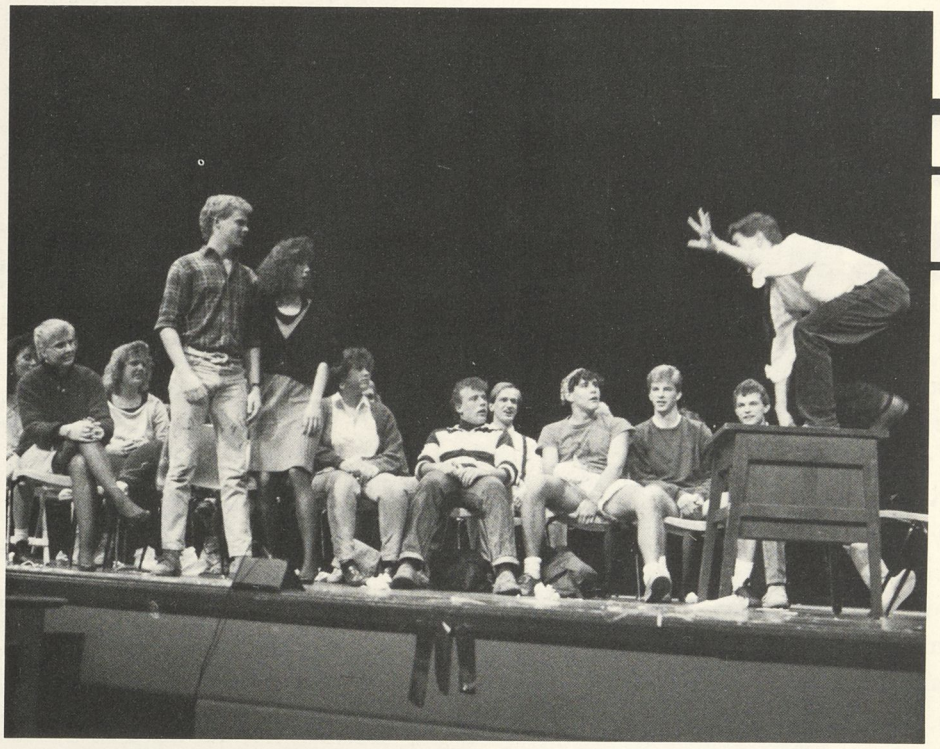




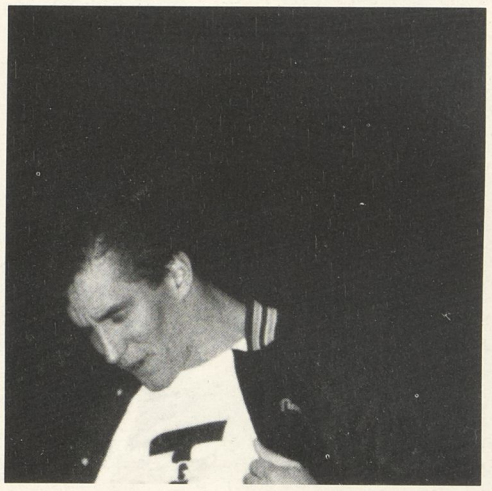
Sophomore townies capture Billigan's crew.

Senior's leave the "Love Boat" kicking.

Junior's were in search of "Happy Days".

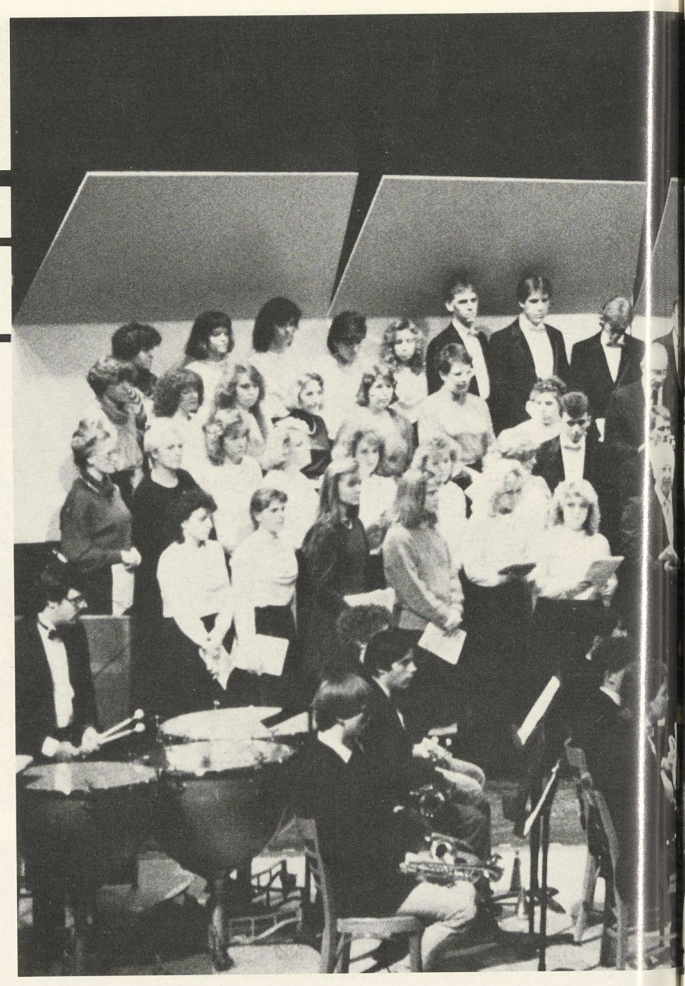


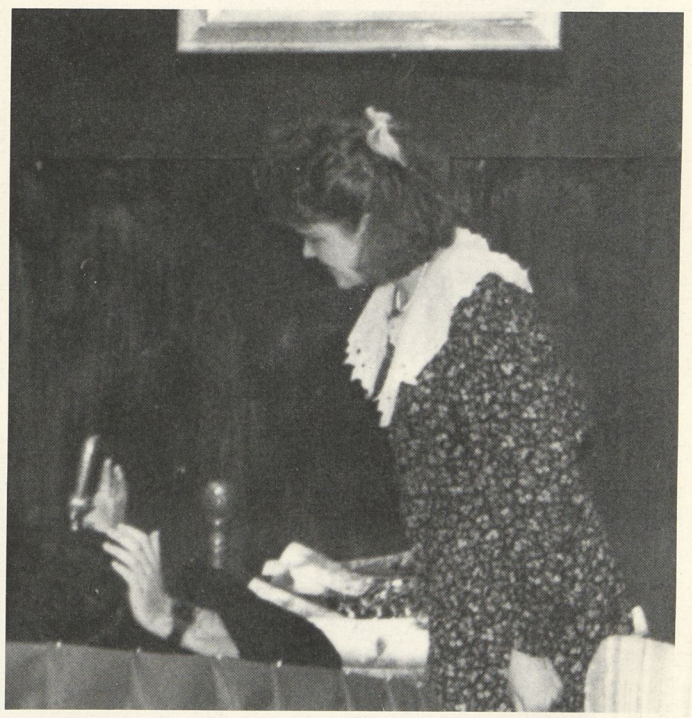
Freshmen's "Beverly Hillbillies" come to Juniata.

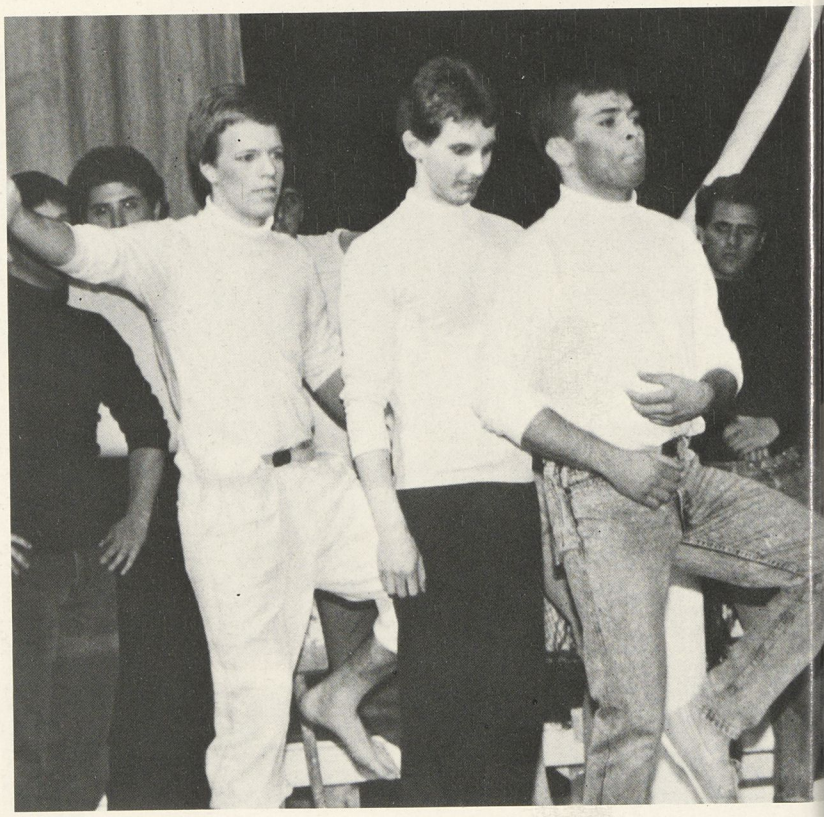


Lights, Camera, Action!

Tryouts, first cuts, second cuts, and finally, you make it! Now begin the many hours of learning your lines, rehearsing, and staying in character. Before you know it, it is opening night. You go through make up, costumes and last minute revisions. You're calm, and suddenly the calm is shattered by the announcement "One minute to curtain!" Again, before you know it, it's closing night, and you hear the final applause. It's over, yet, you don't want it to be. You begin to look forward to next year. This year, the College community provided the area with some great theatrical works, including — Charlies's Aunt, But Why Bump Off Barnaby, Animal Farm, and Carousel. In addition to the theater, the Music department provided excellent entertainment with its Christmas and Spring Concerts.







Springfest

Although it was postponed one day due to extremely cold weather, Springfest turned out to be a major success. The weather and the sun held out through the days activities and the Juniata campus was again turned into that fantasy beach we all love so much. The entire college community did as this year's solgan said, "Catch A Wave", right to the west tennis courts where the festivities took place. The other annual event that goes along with Springfest weekend is Mud Volleyball. This gives a whole new meaning to the sport of volleyball. Many fearless, or should I say crazy, students came out to play in the mud despite the extremely cold temperatures.

Springfest, a time to enjoy.

Sure, you can smile, you're not muddy yet.

Lisa is sporting her springfest bonnet.

The sun makes me tired.

Fight nice, girls!

The Screaming Ducks were only one source of entertainment.

May Day Brunch?

Yes, this year it was May Day Brunch Breakfast. Since it's beginning, in 1917, the first day of May was a day to honor the women. At Juniata this is done by the men serving the women breakfast. Well, this year the time may have changed but the service didn't. The Juniata men looked sharp and did a wonderful job serving the fruit salad, main course and coffee. Another twist to May Day this year was the tie for the 1988 Women of the Year. Kristine Kleinfelder and Amy Wertz were both selected as the women of the Year. Rich Brnich was selected as the 1988 Man of the Year. This is one of great days to be a woman at Juniata and we all hope that it continues year to year.

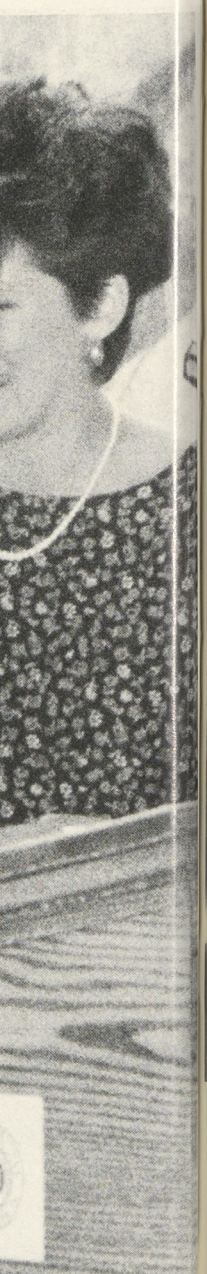
Mrs. Nora Dickey receives special recognition this year.

What a lucky guy!

Dave, are you a waiter on the side?

Even President Neff gets into the swing of things.

This is great, I love when the guys serve me!



Senior Dinner

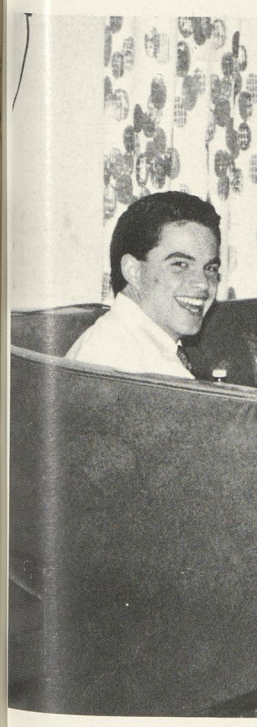
The Senior Dinner is an annual event that takes place the week before finals begin. Buses are taken in shifts to Louie's Coral Lounge where a fine dinner is served to all the seniors. After dinner senior awards are given to previously selected students. Such awards as the prettiest smile, the biggest flirt, best couple and class clown are awarded. Following the award presentation the floor is cleared and the seniors are set free to dance and enjoy their classmates' company. This is a night of reminiscing, enjoying the present and looking forward to the future.

Kim and Geoff look like they're having fun.

Brian's looking for someone to dance with.

Just hanging out!

Carol and Deb pose for a picture after dinner.



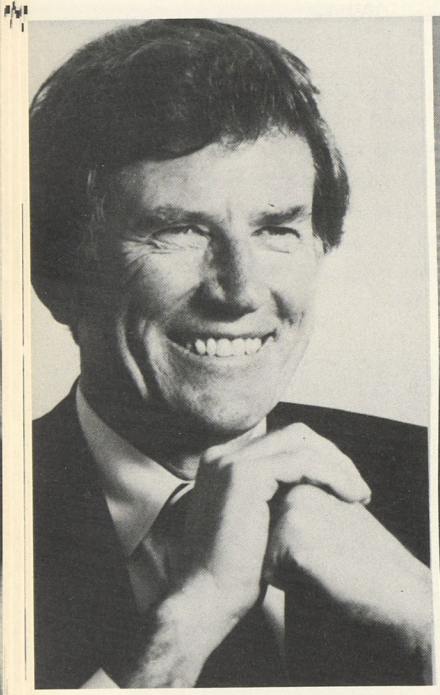
This is the time to get together with friends.

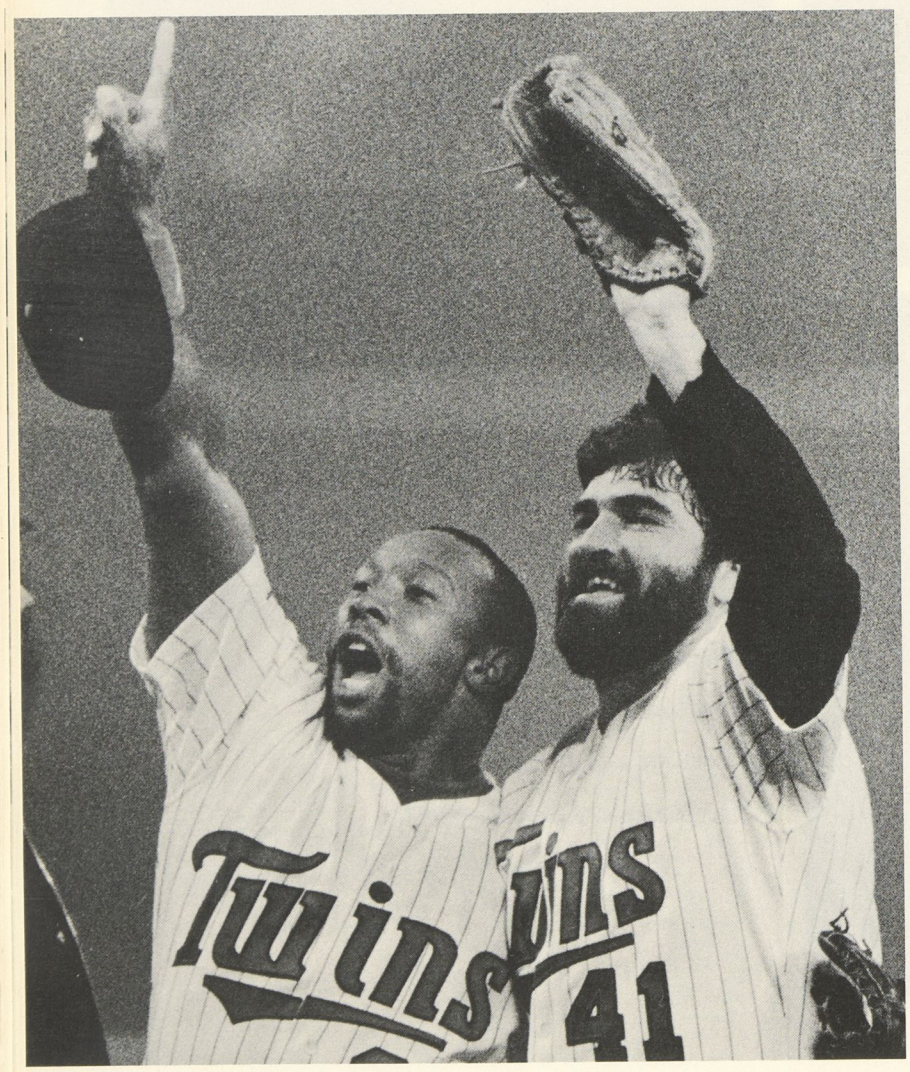
It must be toasting time.

Dan just received a senior award.

The salads and bread must have been good!

WHAT'S NEWS





IN 1

1987 seemed to be a year for scandal in the world of politics. The news of the selling of arms to Iran in exchange for hostages engulfed the nation for most of the year. The scandal involved people from Saudi Arabia to Nicaragua to Washington D.C.. As the congressional hearings hit the television air waves during the summer, the United States became obsessed with Olliemania, resulting from Lieutenant Colonel Oliver North's testimony. Some other notable defendents at the Iran — Contra hearings were Fawn Hall, Robert McFarland and John Poindexter. The scandal began us questioning how much or how little control President Ronald Reagan had over the government. The scandal even tainted George Bush's presidential campaign.

The campaign for the White House got underway in 1987 and 1988. Just four weeks after officially entering the race, Gary Hart dropped out after becoming embroiled in an affair with Donna Rice. He entered the race again in December as a symbolic candidate and once again dropped out a few months later. After Super Tuesday, three main candidates were realistically vying for the Democratic nomination. They were Jesse Jackson and Michael Dukakis, the two front runners and Albert Gore, a distant third. The Democratic convention should be the first brokered one in about twenty years. However, in the Republican race, George Bush wrapped things up early on after initially losing to Robert Dole, who later dropped out of the race in March.

Soviet premier Mikhail Gorbachev made the headlines frequently. He and President Reagan signed an arms control agreement in December, 1987. Also, Gorbachev was named Time magazine's Man of the Year for his leadership and policy of Glastnost.

The AIDS virus affected America dramatically. We debated about laws and testing procedures concerning the virus. The effect of AIDS could also be seen by the changing sexual attitudes of Americans as we began to realize that AIDS was not confined to homosexuals and drug users but could be contracted by heterosexuals as well.

But not all that occured in 1987-1988 were terrible happenings. Two year old Jessica McClure stole the hearts of America during her dramatic rescue from a Texas well. Dennis Conner led the American crew to victory in the America's Cup by defeating Australia. The perennial underdogs, the Minnesota Twins defeated the St. Louis Cardinals in seven games. Finally, the Washington Redskins defeated the Denver Broncos in the Super Bowl.
